Why long-term care planning is important

Good news! We're all living longer than ever before. Planning for care needs now can help avoid surprises later and give you and your loved ones a greater sense of security about the future.

Having a plan in place can help:

- ✓ Reduce financial impact on your loved ones
- ✓ Protect your savings
- ✓ Decrease stress
- ✓ Ensure you have a voice in how and where you receive care

Plan for longevity

One out of every three 65-year-olds is projected to live to at least age 90.⁷

Planning for any gap between your lifespan and health span⁸ is important to protect the journey ahead.

⁷ "Retirement Information for Medicare Beneficiaries," <https://www.ssa.gov/pubs/EN-05-10529.pdf>, Social Security Administration, January, 2023.

⁸ Lifespan refers to the total number of years a person lives, whereas health span refers to the number of those years that a person remains free of significant illness or disease.

Understanding the cost of care

Long-term care costs continue to rise across all care settings.⁹ Considering these costs today and in the future is a critical first step in making a plan and easing the impact of costs when you need care.

Funding options

Choose to pay premiums annually, semiannually, quarterly, or monthly.¹²

Inflation protection

Determine if you want your benefits to grow over time by adding optional inflation protection. 1%, 3%, and 5% compound inflation options are available. Each year, this option automatically increases your daily benefits and total benefit amount remaining after any claims payments.

Deductible period

Decide when your benefits begin. Choose from either a 90-day or a 180-day deductible period. Your deductible period is the number of days you pay for eligible care before benefits begin. You are eligible to receive benefits after the deductible period has been satisfied. You also have the option to have benefits for home and community care with no deductible period by selecting the optional waiver of home and community care deductible period.

All CareScout Care Assurance policies include additional features, including waiver of premium so your payments stop while you are receiving benefits and couples' rates if you are married or in a domestic partnership.¹³

¹⁰ The total benefit amount refers to the coverage maximum in your policy. This is the maximum total amount of benefits available. Some states require minimum benefit amounts that may apply to your selection.
¹¹ Some states require minimum benefit amounts that may apply to your selection.
¹² Premiums must be paid as specified in your policy to maintain coverage. If you pay your premiums more frequently than annually (e.g., monthly, quarterly or semiannually). Additional charges will apply.
¹³ Also applies to those who are joined by a relationship legally recognized under state law as entitled to the same rights and benefits of married persons.

You have care options

CareScout Care Assurance pays for covered care that you receive in the comfort of your home or, for more advanced care, reimburses covered expenses for assisted living and nursing facilities, as well as hospice care.¹⁴

- ✓ Nursing Home

Additional covered care and benefits include home assistance (home modifications, caregiver training, and equipment), hospice care, respite care, and bed reservations. Alternatives to covered benefits may also be available.

¹⁴ To qualify for benefits, among other requirements, covered long-term care services must be received in accordance with a Plan of Care prescribed by a Licensed Health Care Practitioner.
¹⁵ Home care from an independent provider is covered up to 50% of the daily benefit maximum. Independent provider refers to a person who is not employed by or affiliated with a Home Health Agency.

This long-term care insurance policy is intended to meet federal tax-qualified long-term care insurance requirements. As such, it reimburses covered expenses for qualified long-term care services under IRC Section 7702B(b). All benefits of the insurance policy are backed by the claims-paying ability of CareScout Insurance Company. [CareScout Insurance Company has entered into an agreement with a reinsurance company that has an overall financial strength rating of [A+] as rated by A.M. Best as of [1/25/2025]. The reinsurer's overall financial strength, which could change in the future, bears on its obligations under the reinsurance agreement to reimburse CareScout Insurance Company for benefit payments we make to policyholders under CareScout Care Assurance policies. It is not presented as a recommendation of the specific policy provisions, rates, or services associated with CareScout Care Assurance. The reinsurer will not have direct obligations to policyholders under the agreement, and the reinsurance may be modified or terminated in the future.] All applications are subject to the underwriting requirements of CareScout Insurance Company and are subject to change. Once you are insured, you will have the right to continue your coverage for as long as you pay your premium on time. There are certain exceptions, such as when you exhaust policy benefits. If you miss a premium payment, we will inform you in writing at the beginning of any applicable grace period during which we must receive payment to avoid a lapse. If that payment is not made within 66 days of entering the grace period, the policy will lapse. Once you are insured, as long as you pay your premiums on time and do not exhaust your benefits, your coverage is guaranteed renewable and cannot be canceled.

While CareScout Care Assurance has been designed using conservative pricing assumptions, future long-term care claim costs may be different than we anticipate. CareScout Insurance Company has the right to increase premiums in the future, as stated in the policy. You will not be singled out for a premium increase due to changes to your own health status or age. Premiums must be paid as specified in the policy to prevent lapse of coverage.
